

STANFORD COULD NOT SCORE AGAINST NEVADA

The Sagebrushers Outplayed the Cardinals at Every Turn Yesterday

Fall Details of the Contest and Student Comment Thereon

Although Nevada failed to score against Stanford yesterday, the same can be said of the big university at Palo Alto. This means a victory for the sagebrush eleven, for the Stanford team is conceded to be stronger this year than ever before and to have the University of California outclassed.

There was a feeling of restrained excitement manifest yesterday afternoon and the office of The Journal was besieged by a crowd of college men from long before the first bulletin came in until after the final result was announced, there being a fear or hope that the first figures might be incorrect.

When Manager Nathan wired The Journal that the first half had been played without powerful Stanford scoring against the boys from the plateau, Second street rang with the college yell and cheer after cheer, but this was nothing to the demonstration when the final dispatch arrived and nothing to nothing was the score.

After a brief period of throat stretching the college boys returned to the hill, but as soon as night had fallen there was a procession down from the campus. Nearly two hundred strong the students, male and co-male, marched through the streets, huddling up at frequent intervals to make the welkin ring and burn some red fire.

It was a great night for the students for they felt that victory with Berkeley is assured when Nevada goes against the University of California two weeks hence.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 24.—Nevada naught, Stanford naught. Nevada gained most ground. Nobody hurt. Missed three tries for field goal. Stanford fumbled, Nevada never. Field fine, weather warm. Home Monday morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Nevada played Stanford to standstill, score 0 to 0. Story follows in half an hour.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 24.—The Nevada State University eleven outplayed the Stanford varsity team at football today, although neither side scored. The powerful backs of Stanford could make but little impression on Nevada's sturdy line. Only once during the entire game did Stanford make steady gains.

During the game Nevada was three times near enough to make a try for goal, while Nevada's goal was only once in danger. Once Nevada missed the goal by only eighteen inches.

Faulty passing by Nevada's center prevented the team from doing even better work. The best work of the Nevada team at gaining ground was done by Hart and Friesell, the half backs. Swift plunges of the latter made some of the best gains of the day for either side. Captain Smith at end played a star game. He was opposite Clark, one of the best ends Stanford ever had, but he held him all through and in the first part only played him.

During the first half the ball was all the time in Nevada territory near the center and in the second half all on the Stanford side.

The remarkable showing made by Nevada against Stanford was shown by the following summary:

Nevada tried to carry the ball 51 times, gained 10 yards, Stanford made 21 tries, gained 68 yards. Nevada kicked twice for 21 and 25 yards, Stanford four times for 53, 32, 30 and 1 yards, Nevada fumbled twice, Stanford 4 times.

Nevada made first down 15 times, Stanford 5 times. Nevada held Stanford for downs twice, Stanford held Nevada twice. Nevada was thrown back 10 yards, Stanford 2 yards. Nevada had two attempted field goals blocked, and almost scored on third try.

Stanford planned for place kick, but ball came back so poorly that quarter tried to make end run and failed. Altogether Nevada ran 132 yards, Stanford 68.

Following is the lineup for both teams:

Nevada
Center, Leavitt.
Right guard, Menke.
Right tackle, C. Hart.
Right end, Knox.
Quarter, Leadbetter.
Left half, I. Steckle.
Right half, Friesell.
Full, Hart.

Stanford
Right end, Smith.
Right tackle, Stillman.
Right guard, Hyde.
Center, Nissen.
Quarter, Bamsbach, (Capt.)
Right half, Hyde and Chalmers.

Comment on the Game

(By Louis Speller and Chas. E. Bull)
Though the 17th of November, 1900, is a date long to be remembered by Nevadans, the 24th of October, 1903, is a day not less memorable. The former date is commemorated by a banner in the university gymnasium, which reads "Nevada 6, Stanford 0." The latter will be remembered by a similar banner which will read "Nevada 0, Stanford 0."

Though the game of yesterday was less decisive than that of three years ago, it means equally as much, for the score does not show how completely Nevada outplayed Stanford. The detailed account proves this latter statement.

The unlooked for is said to always happen. The event of yesterday tends to bear out to the fullest extent this old adage. Two days ago Nevada's football eleven departed for Palo Alto to contest with a team which consists of the best material that Stanford could muster in their own defense. The team left without much demonstration by the student body, and with a very small display of college enthusiasm as compared with former football years.

Since the recent defeat of Nevada by the Reliance clubmen, Nevada partisans had not been very sanguine as to the result of yesterday's game. The majority seemed to favor Stanford by about two touchdowns. Some forecasted a double goose-egg score. A few of the more hopeful, however, predicted a victory for Nevada by a score of 5 to 0. These latter opinions, however, were probably caused more from an effusion of college spirit than from an actual feeling as to the result.

The game with Reliance showed Nevada her weak points and she profited thereby. Our peerless coach was enabled to see where the most work was needed and to that end lent his efforts. The result is plainly indicated by the score.

When the first news of the game was flashed over the wires from Palo Alto by Manager Nathan the small crowd of college enthusiasts who had gathered in front of The Journal office, hardly credited the veracity of the dispatch. When the report was corroborated, however, pandemonium reigned and all were in jubilant spirits.

While a few of the skeptical seemed to fear the result of the second half, the majority seemed to be of the opinion that the Nevada veterans would be encouraged by the fruits of their efforts and would therefore play with greater determination than ever. On the other hand, Stanford would feel discomfited by their failure to score, and would play without the confidence which they felt at the beginning of the game.

The final score would indicate that the latter view was correct.

Stanford claims to have the strongest team that she has had for years. The games which Berkeley and Stanford have played with other teams this season would indicate Stanford to be the stronger of the two. If this be the case Nevada should defeat Berkeley quite handsly on November 7th.

Detailed account states that Nevada outplayed her opponents at every stage of the game. Even "Champ" Clark, Stanford's famous end, was outclassed by our doughty captain, Smith.

It is with a feeling of pride and satisfaction that we bid the people take off their hats to our resolute and plucky team, their incomparable coach and last, but not least, their peerless manager.

Let us unite in giving them, on their return, a reception such as they deserve.

University Professors Address Large Gatherings in Dauchy's Hall on Subjects of Interest to Tillers of Soil

The Farmers' Institute held Friday afternoon and evening at Glendale under the auspices of the University of Nevada was well attended and the proceedings were quite interesting and instructive. Dauchy's hall was well filled with farmers and their families from the vicinity.

Chairman Pollock made an address of welcome, to which Dr. Stubbs responded.

Prof. Wilson took up the first period with an instructive talk on milk testing and other dairy subjects, making a number of practical demonstrations.

Professor True spoke on building up dairy herds and during the intermission he went to a corral and pointed out to the members of the institute the good and bad characteristics of the cattle.

Prof. Frandsen gave an address on anthrax and displayed cultures of the germ that creates the disease. He spoke of the difference between anthrax and blackleg and other diseases of cattle. The question box was next in order and quite a discussion followed.

"The Reclamation of Alkali Soils" was briefly discussed by Prof. Wilson, there not being time to elaborate on the subject.

Dr. Kennedy told of a number of experiments made by the Humboldt Land and Cattle company, upon soil impregnated with alkali.

The last address was delivered by Dr. Stubbs, whose theme was the farmers' institute and what it should accomplish.

Recent Additions Made to the Reno Chamber of Commerce Display, Evidencing That Mining Is Not the Only Resource

In addition to the mineral specimens received, the following collections have been received at the Reno Chamber of Commerce during the past day or two:

From E. T. Morton, one mile from Reno, a box of New Yorker potatoes. From Editor Fairbanks of the Lyon County Times, published in Mason valley, an assortment of Baldwin, Spitzenburg and Ben Davis apples. Mr. Fairbanks is a hard worker for the advancement of Nevada and is a warm supporter of the Chamber of Commerce, having previously sent a number of other exhibits.

From Mrs. John Galt of near Reno, a display of Pride of Washoe apples. From William Smiley of Starr valley, Elko county, a quantity of Wolf River apples.

From Mr. Genocchio of four miles west of Reno, a collection of mushrooms, the largest of which is ten inches in diameter. These mushrooms are uncultured, but possess all the delicacy of the small mushrooms grown under forced culture.

From Messrs. Moore & Mullins of Wedekind City a choice collection of potatoes, the average of 300 sacks dug yesterday. They say that the quality of potatoes this season is much better than usual, although the yield is not heavy, owing to the cold spring.

These are exhibitors brought in some Nevada strawberries, the second crop produced on their ranch this season. The strawberries are large and well colored. They are more tart and have a much better flavor than the California berries.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S POSSIBLE LETTER

INDIGNANT as the American people would be should one of the high officials of their government so far forget himself as to accept presents from any source which would lay him under a moral obligation to their donors, I believe that there would have been no dissent from approval of the course of the president if the news dispatches from Boston had contained the following letter:

My Dear Little Girl: It is necessary that the President of the United States, in the words of one of our great judges, should "avoid not only evil, but the appearance of evil," and for this reason I have established a rule against accepting any presents, except those little tokens that my old and intimate personal friends are kind enough to send me; but in the case of your beautiful flag I have decided to make an exception to the rule, and accept it. I shall not keep it for myself alone, but it will be draped in the executive offices of the White House, where all who visit the president may see it. Thus it will be an inspiration to all and a constant reminder of the noble history of our country and the devotion of its people.

Really, the flag belongs to all of us, to each as much as to anyone else, to love and to defend. That is one of the chief reasons that causes me to break my rule and accept your present. The flag is not like a train of cars, or a cask of wine, or a horse or a saddle. If anyone wanted to give one of those to me, I should not break the rule. I should refuse to accept such a present, because, though I might have no thought of wrong doing, the acceptance might be misconstrued by some persons and the honor and dignity of the high post I am striving to fill might be smirched. But the flag is different; I feel that the people all over the United States will know that there can be nothing amiss in my accepting that, for it can hide no wrong or improper design, and can do only good, in keeping always before me the high purpose and noble aims of those who have defended and upheld it.

As you must be the better for the fine thoughts that filled your mind while you were working over this beautiful flag, combining its stars and stripes, stitching on its fabric, so I and all others will be the better for looking at it, and feeling the thrill of holy pride which it inspires in all Americans.

Grow up, my dear little Marie, loving the flag, and doing good as you know the men and women who have loved it before you did. You will be a worthy citizen; no weakling, and a pride to the flag itself. Yours truly,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Miss Marie Costeau, Boston, Mass.

I think that no American would have found fault with the president who accepted such a gift in such a spirit—James McGuire of Santa Barbara, Cal., in the New York Sun.

UNIONISM OR NON-UNIONISM

THE Wall Street Journal says that the issue being squarely trades unionism and non-unionism, the election in Waterbury, Conn., has been carried by a large majority, by the candidates whom the labor organizations opposed. Waterbury, which is a thriving and intelligent New England City of 46,000 inhabitants, was, it will be recalled, the scene of a recent trolley strike, that resulted in such disorder and outrages as to completely turn the public sentiment of the city against the labor organizations. This strike excited a general interest throughout the country, and the verdict of the citizens of Waterbury cannot fail to make a profound impression.

Inasmuch as the labor problem is entering more and more into the domain of politics, the result in Waterbury is doubly significant. In the first battle between unionism and non-unionism, labor loses. This is the first gun in the campaign, and it gives forth no uncertain sound. The mass of the people who stand between capital and labor, who have no interest in either the money trust or the labor trust, but whose sympathies would be naturally with the working man as the weaker party in any struggle for supremacy, have not hesitated to vote against the trade unions, because they would not stand for the outrages perpetrated in the name of organized labor.

One cannot but feel the deepest regret at such a result as this, regret not for the outcome of the election, for that should have a wholesome effect, but regret that trade unionism should have so misbehaved itself as to invite this defeat. The principle of labor organization is so sound, the opportunities which it opens for the elevation of the industrial toilers are so many, and the possibilities of good to the whole race which might be achieved by it, are so great, that it is pitiful to see these opportunities wasted in an effort to obtain a temporary advantage by methods which justify meet with the condemnation of all right-minded people.

If the Waterbury election shall open the eyes of the trades unionists, to the utter folly of their present policies of opposition, it will have been a blessing in disguise to organized labor. But whether they close their eyes to its significance or not, the result is in the highest degree welcome to the country, as it proves that when the issue is put squarely to the people, they will vote for law, order, fair play and equal opportunity for all. The American people

STRANGE INDEED

IF Sam Parks the walking delegate convicted of extortion gets the half million fund he is seeking from the Bridgesmiths' national association, he will tie up building operations in New York worse than ever before or will force all building contractors to come to his terms. It is strange and inexplicable that this man, who has won his way by physical force and not by brains, who has injured his men more than he has helped them, who is now out of States prison only on a legal technicality, should be able to dominate the national convention of his union and control its actions, defeating there the men who had opposed him in New York and who represent the more decent forces.—Argus and Patriot.

THE REASON

THE trusts based on natural monopoly have no trouble in doing business at a profit on their immensely swollen capitalization. The trusts that are based on pure speculation are in trouble because speculative interests are disturbed. This may be advanced as an argument that trusts do no harm in the end, that industrial interests will automatically adjust themselves. But how about the consumers who have paid high prices for trust products while the trust was in operation? Will they be compensated? How about the men and women who have invested their money in the watered capital of the trusts? Will they be compensated?

MR. KNOX'S long preparation for fighting the trusts reminds one of the man who backed off three miles to get a running start for a jump over a fence. When he reached the fence he was too exhausted to jump.

A LOT of gold standard organs are compelled to learnedly discuss nothing to the extent of columns in order to avoid explaining why it was not the Philippine coinage that increased the price of the white metal.

RELIGIOUS CIRCLES

Communication Giving Details of the Recognition Services Held in the Congregational Church Thursday Evening

The Recognition Service at the congregational church Thursday evening, October 22, was well attended, the church being filled to its utmost capacity. The meeting was called to order by the president of the board of trustees, Prof. Cushman. The Scripture lesson and prayer were by President Stubbs of the State University and Rev. Dr. Welch of the Methodist church. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Atkinson, rendered a stirring anthem, "A Song of Thanksgiving."

The recognition sermon was by Rev. R. Knodell of Santa Cruz on the "Mission of the Minister of Christ." Mr. Knodell said in part that this is an age of criticism, of advance, and of change and readjustment of our laws in matters of science, philosophy and religion. But, though views may change and the methods of explaining the facts of science, philosophy and of religion may vary from time to time, the facts, the fundamental things in each of these great departments of life still remain and demand our thought and attention.

In each department the specialist, the scientist, the philosopher and the man of religion, must still investigate, and must still study to set forth the truths of his subject.

The great fundamental fact in Christianity is the Cross of Christ. The cross teaches the sinfulness of sin. It was sin that nailed the Savior to that cross. The cross teaches the love of God for sinful man, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever should believe in him should not perish but have eternal life." The cross teaches the obligation of service, "My meat is to do the will of him that sent me."

The second speaker was Judge B. F. Curlier. In speaking of the "Relation of the Church to the Community" Judge Curlier said that every church is an aid to the law and a protection to the community. The prevalence of crime, the very great number of indictments every year for felony is alarming to every right minded citizen and should make us consider seriously upon the social and moral conditions prevailing in this western life of ours. It is to be regretted that the strict, old-fashioned ideals of moral conduct have been suffered to become so lax.

The rector of Trinity church, Rev. Samuel Unsworth, spoke of the "Relation of the Pastor and His Flock" and emphasized the necessity, especially in a church whose polity and organization is so independent and without ecclesiastical control as is the Congregational, of unity of the membership of harmony and co-operation both among the members and with the pastor.

The charge to the pastor and the recognition prayer were given by Dr. Knodell. He charged Brother Burkett in all things to be guided by "the path in the sky."

After the exercises those present met Mr. and Mrs. Burkett in an informal reception held in the parlors of the church. Light refreshments were served by the ladies of the St. Margaret Society. An hour was spent in a very pleasant social way.

THE OCCULT SCIENCE

Demonstrations to be Made in McKissick's Opera House on Every Evening This Week, Beginning Monday, by Prof. Falt

Prof. Falt will hypnotize a young lady in the window of John Sunderland's clothing store at 2 p. m. Monday, October 26th. She will lie in a motionless condition in full view of spectators during the entire afternoon. At 7:15 she will be carried to the McKissick Opera-house and awakened at opening of the performance Monday night.

The phenomena of hypnotism are as well established and almost as well understood as those of natural sleep. A skilled operator can throw a patient into a condition of lethargy in which he becomes insensible to ordinary sights and sounds, and obeyed unhesitatingly the commands of the hypnotist. He sees, hears and thinks according to directions. Moreover it is possible to convey to him impressively while in this outwardly comatose condition, directions for future actions or conduct, which acts he will perform or which course of conduct he will follow after passing out of the hypnotic state.

This rather crude explanation of these wonderful facts is stated, for want of accurate and adequate language, to lie in the existence in each individual of a double personality.

There are two states of consciousness. One is the outer, or primary, in which for the most part we live, the objective personality, the one which deals with sight, sound, smell, touch and taste. But below this lies the real being, the secret man, the governing force, the secondary consciousness, which has a life of its own, substantially independent of physical attributes. This is supreme during hypnosis; and this, receiving impressions at that time from a commanding spiritual personality, carries them even after the lesser surface consciousness has been restored by release from artificial slumber.

Prof. Falt will demonstrate the science of suggestion, better known as hypnotism, at the McKissick theater for six nights, beginning Monday, October 26th, with a change of program each night. Every knowledge-loving man, woman and child should accept this opportunity to gain knowledge on this subject. The Falt has gained a world-wide reputation as entertainer.

Popular prices will prevail during the week, 25, 35 and 50 cents. Seats on sale at Rosenthal & Armarko's.

New Fall Styles for Men and Women

The new effects this season are most all brought out in the shoemaking. There are no freakish shapes or extreme edges to distract one's attention from the real qualities of a shoe; in fact, it is the quality that determines the styles, as the new custom effects cannot be produced by unskilled workmen with cheap materials. The general tone and character of the new style is more pleasing and the shoes dress the feet more attractively than for several seasons.

WILL TOUR AGAIN

The Famous Diva Is Now on Her Way to This Country and Will be Heard This Season in All of the Principal Cities

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. — According to advices received by her manager, Robert Grau, Mme. Adelina Patti sails for New York today and is expected to arrive here the last of next week in readiness for the opening concert of her American tour, which is scheduled to take place in this city Monday evening, November 2.

After giving three concerts in New York the famous diva will start on what is advertised as positively her farewell tour of America. The itinerary extends as far as the Pacific Coast and the tour will not end until after the beginning of next year. Among the cities in which she will be heard are Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Montreal, Boston, Scranton, Washington, Baltimore, Buffalo, Toronto, Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake, reaching San Francisco the last of December. On the return trip to the Atlantic coast the famous singer will be heard in Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas and possibly one or two other places.

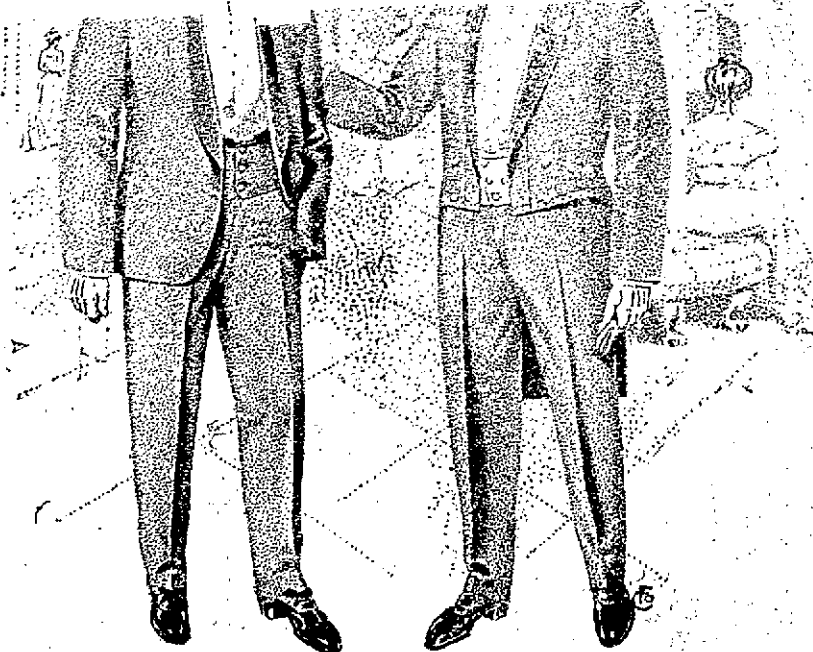

New Port for Lake Michigan
Special to The Journal
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 24. — In the northwestern corner of Indiana, a short distance from Chicago, Governor Durbin is to be the central figure in simple ceremonies this afternoon that will mark the beginning of a new epoch in that section and mean more for its industrial welfare than anything that has ever taken place before.

The event is the beginning of work on the construction of the East Chicago ship canal, a colossal undertaking that so far has attracted little attention outside of the section immediately interested, but the general importance of which can hardly be overestimated. The canal is to lead from the Michigan to Wolf lake and its most important result will be to make great port for the town of Hammond and the surrounding district by a south and east of Chicago across Indiana line. The district is already the location of many immense manufacturing enterprises and it is expected that with the completion of the canal it will soon rival Chicago in the extent and importance of industries. The canal is to be three and one-half miles in length, one hundred feet wide of sufficient depth throughout its entire length to accommodate the largest ships on the Great Lakes. Under the terms of the contract the first of the canal is to be finished in one year and two years is the limit fixed for the entire completion of the waterway.

It was designed by Herman Hidding, from plans submitted by Emperor William, with whom Von Ketteler was a great favorite. The monument consists of a huge obelisk surmounted by a heroic figure in bronze. On the front face of the obelisk is a bas relief portrait of the murdered diplomat and under a furled flag and a suitable inscription.

A SOCIAL SMOKER BY UNION MEN

Last Evening Was the Scene of an Enjoyable Social Where Partaking of Refreshments Was Mingled With Speech Making

Last evening the unions of this city gave a social smoker in Labor hall. It was just about the biggest and best thing of the sort that ever happened in this city. At no time were there less than 150 people in the hall, and as they came and went all evening, it is no exaggeration to say that there were about 250 union men in attendance.

Doctor Burton of the Carpenters' Union was elected chairman for the evening and A. C. Hose of the law and legislative committee of the Painters' Union was chosen secretary.

The program of the evening opened with music by Hunt & Debeano, who played a duet entitled, "A Signal From Mars."

P. M. Clock made the opening address on "Unionism." Senator Roff was then initiated into the hood carriers union with all due pomp and ceremony. He was present on invitation by the law and legislative committee and made an address upon the question of public policy and law, as the latter was enacted by the last legislature. He gave a very clear and concise statement of existing conditions.

The matter of the violation of the eight-hour law in Churchill and Humboldt counties was brought to his attention. Mr. Christie of the painters' union gave his version of the Humboldt violation.

The orchestra then rendered "The Ruse of Killarney."

J. J. Murray of the painters' union was called upon for something to alleviate the gloom. He succeeded in drawing out a big laugh or two. The orchestra then appropriately played a dirge.

L. B. Self of the carpenters' union spoke upon society.

"Break of Day march" was then played by the orchestra.

"Doc" Burton of the carpenters' union spoke upon unionism and gave a very pleasant and entertaining fifteen minute speech.

Oscar Sims of the hood carriers' union gave a very pretty exhibition of leggedomain.

Messrs. Hunt and Debeano gave a buck and wing dance and other fancy steps.

Mr. Sherry of the carpenters' union gave a recitation entitled, "The Picture on the Barroom Floor."

P. M. Clock told a story that was humorous and well received.

Mr. Colburn of the Retail Clerks' union spoke of the need of further organization.

A. C. Hose of the painters' union gave the history of his union from its initiation to the present time.

The carpenters' union was represented by President Baker, who gave a story of his union.

P. J. Shea told a very humorous story about Brother Dr. Burton, which ended the latter in a rather peculiar fashion.

Rating, drinking, smoking and conversation ended the evening, which was a red hot occurrence in the annals of unionism.

THE ORIGINAL TONOPAH

Boites May Expect a Treat Next Friday Evening

"The Original Tonopah," a fetching farce played by Carson society people, is to be presented Friday evening at Investment hall under the auspices of the Century Club. The Carson papers pronounce the performance a gem, and far ahead of many of professional shows we have.

Virginia City is also bidding for a sensation of the play.

Miss Edith Howe, a talented young actress, well known in Reno, is at the head of the little company, each one of which the Carson papers term a "so Reno may expect a treat."

Looked like a Volcano
The contractors are now going at canal excavation with great vigor. Twenty-six big blasts were set off simultaneously and a pillar of dust rose to the heavens, while boulders fell high in the air.

SPANISH BULL FIGHT THIS AFTERNOON

Splendid Exhibition to be Given by Senior Enrique Robles, the Famous Toreador From Madrid

All arrangements for the big bull fight for this afternoon have been completed. A varied program has been prepared and all who attend are assured of plenty of entertainment.

Look out for the parade. It will start at 1 o'clock and will be headed by the Eagle band. Senior Robles, his attendants and a bunch of vaqueros, all dressed in Mexican style will make up the procession. Senior Robles' costume is an expensive one and the exact counterpart of those worn in the bull fights before the nobility of Spain.

Again let it be announced that the bull fight will not be accompanied by any act of cruelty. Ladies and children are especially invited. The performance will begin at 2:30 at the racetrack. Pay at the gate.

JOBE TAYLOR BEAT THE COAST RECORD

But the Reno Wheelmen's Representative Came in Second in the Race at Berkeley Yesterday

Although details are meagre, there must have been a great race at the University of California yesterday afternoon when the swiftest runners on the coast strove for the coveted St. Louis trip. The only representative from Nevada, Jobe Taylor, was entered by the Reno Wheelmen club.

Twenty seconds were clipped from the coast record and Mr. Taylor came in second. He will doubtless go to the exposition as substitute. Here is the story of the try-out race, as briefly told in a special dispatch to The Journal.

BERKELEY, Oct. 24.—Newhall of the University of California first in one thousand yards race. Taylor of the Reno Wheelmen club second. Time, 2:24 4-5.

FORTY LIVES LOST IN NEW YORK CITY

The Great Subway Caved and Fifty People Were Caught, Only a Few of Whom Were Rescued

Special to The Journal
NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Fifty men were caught in a cave in the great subway tunnel tonight. Up to two o'clock this morning only five were gotten out. Several others are in sight and will be rescued. The loss of life is expected to reach forty.

I Guess That Wasn't Bad

Quite a curiosity was seen on the streets of Reno yesterday. A pet lamb that is accustomed to wander about the streets and alleys at its own sweet will, was captured by some kids who had secured a leg of a sheep somewhere and the appendage was tied to the lamb, giving it the appearance of a dime museum monstrosity.

WILL ERECT A SAWMILL SPRIGS FROM ARTEMISIA

Raycraft Brothers Contemplate Building on Kingsbury Grade

The Record is authorized to state that the Raycraft brothers, of Genoa, contemplate the erection of a sawmill on the Kingsbury grade, early next spring. The mill will be built on or near the summit, where the timber will be cut in desired sizes. From the mill it will be flumed to the mouth of the Kingsbury canyon, where a box factory is to be erected near where the old flour mill stands. Here will be run a first-class lumber yard, and lumber of every description will be kept on hand. A motor is to be installed and during the winter months the factory will be operated by electric power. Carefully compiled figures and data have already been obtained and there is no question but that the proposition would be a paying one.

Developments in the Ruth

At the Ruth Superintendent Gray of the White Pine Copper Company is pushing developments in the drifts from the 300 and 500 levels of the Ruth shaft with the same limitless ore body in sight. Work on the outside claims of the group is being vigorously pushed. Another new building is now in course of erection which will be used as the company office and assay office when completed. Six buildings, excluding the boarding house, hoisting works, and stable, now constitute the town of Ruth which is yet in its infancy, being less than one year old.

Bothered With Water

At Pilot Knob another large flow of water was encountered in the drift on the 450 level of the Giroux shaft, making the prosecution of work here at the present a little difficult, says the White Pine News. Sinking below the 200 on the Morris, and in the new shaft on the Alta is being vigorously prosecuted with the working in ore. Drifting on the ledge from the 150 level of the Taylor still continues with the ledge holding its own both in width and values. Assessment work on some 30 of the outside claims is also being performed.

Property Misdirected

The McKinley Co. with a small force is doing development work on the Saxton and Jupiter groups. The cutting down of the force by the eastern directors of this company at the present state of development of the property is another fair illustration of eastern mismanagement of mining property, and presents a state of affairs here that is thoroughly disgusting to the local mine managers and the whole community as well. —Elko News.

At Calientes

At Calientes times are beginning to get a little dull. There is a great deal of business, but not enough for all the business houses established. While there are a great many men they are not of the class that have much money to spend, or who spend it very freely when they do have it. The town is little more than a big railroad yard, with tents scattered around in all directions and a few houses on the outside. —Delamar Lode.

Leaching Ore

Edward Millard and son have had their leaching plant in operation on the Chairman tailings for the past week with most gratifying results. Five tanks with a capacity of 12 tons each have been discharged during the week and until the cold weather sets in and prevents further operations, Messrs. Millard will make regular shipments of auro-cyanides to the refinery.

Big Irrigation Suit

Another big irrigation suit will soon be before the courts, J. M. Douglass of the city will shortly bring suit against the Carson Valley ranchers to enjoin them from further diversion of the water in the Carson river. The suit will be instituted on behalf of the Douglass mill at Dayton, which property is lying idle on account of the lack of motive power.

After Opium Smokers

Constable McCoy arrested Carl Weaver, Robert Wilson, Wm. Ross and Jess Clark on the charge of visiting an opium den. Weaver, Ross and Wilson were tried by Judge Rutledge and convicted. Weaver got $120 or 30 days in jail, and the other two $50 or 30 days. Clark's case was postponed. —Elko Independent.

HE LEARNED A GREAT TRUTH

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because one telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip, that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. RAN A TEN PENNY NAIL THROUGH HIS HAND

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the pain and soreness this would cause injured parts were soon healed." For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wall and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

DO GOOD—IT PAYS

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragements more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

SAVES TWO FROM DEATH

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. H. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds 50c and $1 bottles guaranteed by S. J.
